Guide to the Index: The Air Force Law Review, Volumes 21-49

This index supplements the index compiled by Captain E. Glenn Parr and his Editorial Board as an initial 20-year index of the Air Force Law Review. 21 A.F. L. REV. 6-284 (1979).

Following in the footsteps of Captain Parr and his Editorial Board, though just a bit beyond a 20-year cycle, it is my hope and desire that this index will make The Air Force Law Review more useful to its readers by assisting them in locating articles, authors, notes, comments, book reviews, or other material published in the Air Force Law Review in Volumes 21 to 49. Once this volume is published and made computer-accessible (through LEXIS and WebFLITE, DoD's Executive Agent for Computerized Research), our readers will be able to find these articles more quickly and be able to respond to pressing legal issues more authoritatively.

To provide some history and continuity, I offer the following background information on The Air Force Law Review, drawn largely from Captain Parr's initial Guide. This law review was first published as The United States Air Force JAG Bulletin (A.F. JAG BULL.). Beginning with Volume 6, Number 6, it became The United States Air Force JAG Law Review (A.F. JAG L. REV.). Volume 16 saw the publication take its current name, The Air Force Law Review (A.F. L. REV.). Volumes 1 through 10 contain six separately paginated issues and are cited by the month of issue as follows: 1 A. F. JAG BULL. 3 (Mar. 1959); 9 A.F. JAG L. REV. 26 (Sep.-Oct. 1967). Volumes 11-15 are paginated consecutively and are cited by volume and page number only: 14 A.F. JAG L. REV. 84 (1972). Volumes 16-18 each contain four separately paginated issues that are cited by season of the year as follows: 18 A.F. L. REV. (Spring 1976). Volumes 19-49 are paginated consecutively and are cited by volume and page number only: 20 A.F. L. REV. 22 (1978).

To maximize the utility of the index for those searching either this index or the previous 20-year index, this index will follow generally the same conventions employed by the index of the first twenty volumes, so the format of this guide draws heavily from Captain Parr's efforts. With a few exceptions, this table format index contains all writings published in The Air Force Law Review from Volume 21 to Volume 49 (2000).

Each item is indexed by one or more subjects, by author, and by title. The subject index groups the writings alphabetically by title under appropriate subject-matter headings, disregarding a, an, and the. The author index lists each writing in alphabetical order by the last name of the author. The rank of military authors is that held at the time the writing was published. Writings having more than one author are listed under the name of each author. Two or more writings by the same author are grouped in alphabetical order by the first major word of each title, disregarding a, an, and the. Note that the author index includes book reviews indexed by the reviewer's name, not by the book's author. Book reviews are otherwise indexed separately by book title. The title index entries are listed alphabetically by the first major word of each title, disregarding a, an, and the. Each entry contains a numerical reference to the volume, number, if appropriate, and page where that particular item is published. I trust our efforts will assist you in your legal research.

DEL GRISSOM, Major, USAF
Editor, The Air Force Law Review
